YONKERS.

The June meeting of the Woman's Baptist Foreign Missionary Society of the Southern New-York Association was held yesterday at the Warburton Avenue Baptist Church, Yonkers, Mrs. James B. Colgate, president of the association, presided. The church was handsomely decorated with flowers and plants from the Colgate conservatories. The session opened with a devotional meeting, led by Mrs. Hobart, followed by reading of Scriptures and prayer by the Rev. Dr. Hobart. The reports of the secretary, Mrs. Kemp, and the treasurer, Mrs. Winans, showed that the society is doing a large Mrs. Bucknell, of Philadelphia, read a on "Wasted Lives"; Mrs. Bushnell, of Maubin, Burmah, made an address on the work in that on "Wasted Lives"; Mrs. Bushnell, of Maubin, Burmah, made an address on the work in that country, and Mrs. Carpenter spoke of the work in Nemuro, Japan. At noon iuncaeon was served in the lecture-room, where sixteen large tables were spread. Bouquets of rosse, daisies and ferns were spread. Bouquets of rosse, daisies and ferns were spread on the tables, and a large red rose lay beside each plate. A large bail of roses was suspended from the centre of the celling, and a floral star was fastened to the gallery railing. The star was fastened to the gallery and a floral star was fastened to the gallery railing. The star was fastened to the gallery of the Warburton Avenue Church. At the afternoon session a paper on "Farther Lights," by Mrs. Will Carleton, of Japan, followed with an address; and after the singing of a trio, the Rev. Dr. Rose, of Rangoon, Burmah, made an address. A lesson and address, "Little Children of Other Lands," by Miss Juliet E. Dimock, was an interesting feature of the meeting. Singing by the Mission Band followed, and the closing address was delivered by the Rev. Mr. Sutherland, of Sagaing, Burmah. The Youngers Corinthian Yacht Club held its last monthly meeting on Thursday evening. An amendment to the constitution was adopted, by which the monthly meetings are abodshed. Special meetings are to be called when necessary, and the annual meeting is to be held in December. The regular business of the cub's delegates were instructed to vote for the committee of the New-York Yacht Racing Association, which was appointed to revise the sailing rules of the association, was read and approved, and the cub's delegates were instructed to vote for the amendments. The Regatta Committee will be appointed to make arrangements. The Acqual

WHITE PLAINS.

The committee appointed by the Board of Trusfees of White Plains to make a final report relative to the conditions to be imposed by the board for the granting of franchises to the New-York, Elmsford and White Plains, and the New-York, Mamaroneck and White Plains electric rallway companies, held a final meeting last evening, and will make a report The weekly summer-night on Monday night. . . . concerts in Broadway Park will be begun on Wednesday evening next by the White Plains brass band. Excise affairs form one of the chief topics of conversation in the village. All the figuor-stores and hotels in the village have their doors wide open for the transaction of business, just as though the Excise Board had taken from each the $150 license fee. In all, $3.900 has been returned. No money is in the hands of the Supervisor for the temporary relief of the poor, and the annual expenditure for realief of the poor, and the annual expenditure for relief of the poor, and the annual expenditure for relief of the poor, and the annual ax levy upon all the property-owners in the town. The liquor men are united, and do not intend to close their doors. They openly assert they do not fear arrest, as their application, bondsmen and money are ready for the Excise Commissioners whenever those officials care to accept them. Depot Square and Railroad-ave, are to have a dressing of bluestone. The Sewer Committee of the Hoard of Trustees will strive to obtain thile to all necessary lands required for sewer purposes, and have directed the corporation counsel to hurry proceedings to that end. concerts in Broadway Park will be begun

Judge McCormick, in the Orphans' Court, at Eliza beth, yesterday handed down a decision in the fight over the estate of William J. Lowe, of Scotch Plains, who was Senate Bill Clerk in the Legislature Plains, who was Senate Bill Clerk in the Legislature of 1833. The Court decides that there was not sufficient proof that the widow had been married before she wedded Mr. Lowe, and that she was the latter's lawful wife, and entitled to be administrator of his estate, which comprises a hotel at Scotch Plains and a haif interest in a large hote! at Morristown His brother, Thomas Lowe, who heid the other interest on the Morristown property, was the contestant against the widow. Lowe died on December 31, 1895, leaving a wife and child, but no will. His brother set up the claim that the widow had another husband, George Ducky, living in Marristown, from whom she had not been divorced.

HOBOKEN.

The trustees of the First Reformed Church, of Hoboken, the cornerstone of which was laid on Decoration Day, are much worried because the foundation of the church is threatened by quick-cand. Besides the quicksand there is a hidden spring on the ground, which has only just been discovered. The architect-Robert E. Dixon-says that although the quicksand is there, the founda-tions are so placed that he is convinced the trus-tees need not worry over the stability of the church.

JERSEY CITY.

Prosecutor Winfield yesterday sent two officers to Christ Hospital, Jersey City, to watch Elle Buret, who shot his wife at North Bergen on Wednesday night. Buret and his wife are both doing well. The husband will be placed under arrest as soon as he recovers.

NEWARK.

The pupils in the Newton-st. public school, Newark, where nearly 1,000 children are taught, were ex cited yesterday noon by a story that a ghost had been seen in the girls' court. Ruby Moke and Elsie Assman are the girls who say they saw the apparition. The court is near the boiler room, and the girls say they saw something while, with arms extended, walking to and fro at the boiler. Principal Terwilliger ordered the courts locked, and it was given out that the boiler is being repaired, but as the boiler is never repaired until the vacation season, the children are not satisfied with the explanation. Charles Duffy, colored, who was janitor of the school some time ago, said several times, it is now recalled, that he had seen an apparition in the boiler room, and also in other parts of the building. He was so worried, the gossips say, that he began to drink, and then he saw the ghost again. Finally been seen in the girls' court. Ruby Moke and Elsie

A POWERFUL WESTERN WIND.

From The Pittsburg Dispatch.
Elwood, Ind., May 20.—'The Peoria, (Ill.), Transcript" of Friday, May II, contained the following:
'Last night during the heavy storm, two hogs and a fat goose, belonging to Sam Wainscott, were blown from his barnyard, and they have not been heard from.'

blown from his barnyard, and they have not been heard from."

However remarkable the statement may seem, these very pigs, together with the goose, are now inhabiting the barnyard of T. J. Hancock, near this city, where they were dropped by the storm which swept over here at that time. It was about 2 o'clock in the morning when Hancock was aroused from his sleep by the storm. He went out into the barnyard to look after his stock, and his attention was attracted by the clouds, in which he saw, during a lightning flash, the pigs and goose. Suddenly they dropped to the ground in his yard, and next morning they were as lively as usual, having suffered only slightly during their perilous trip of 2% miles through the air. The article in the Peorla of Mr. Wainscott asking for a description of the missing pigs and goose. The description tallies perfectly with that of the animals in Mr. Hancock's possession. He has written to Wainscott to come and get his stock, which he is convinced belongs to him.

WOMEN WISH TO BE RECOGNIZED. THEY URGE THE MAYOR TO APPOINT FIVE OF THEM MEMBERS OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION.

A petition signed by some of the prominent women in the city was presented to Mayor Schleren yesterday, asking for the appointment of at least five women among the fifteen members of the Board of Education, to be appointed by July 1. Among the signers were Mrs. Truman J. Backus, president of the Brooklyn Women's Club; Mrs. E. F. Pettengill, president of the King's Daughters, of Brooklyn; Mrs. J. H. Burtis, president of the Memorial Hospital for Women and Children; Helen M. French, president of the Women's Auxiliary of the Brooklyn Hospital; Miss Margaret C. Urban Ciub; Mrs. James Scrimgeour, Health Protective Association, and Mrs. M. W. Chapman, president Woman's Suffrage Association.

W. Crapman, president Woman's Suffrage Association.

Among the men who indersed the petition were the Rev. Dr. R. S. Storrs, Professor Franklin W. Harper, Professor Truman J. Backus, the Rev. J. Coleman Adams, Dr. John D. Rushmore, Henry R. Jones, Elward Merritz, Charles M. Pratt, Joshua M. Van Cott, W. C. Kellogg, Solomon W. Johnson, Theodore Drefer and the Rev. J. W. Chadwick. The petitioners urged their cause with these words: "We would urge upon your consideration the fact that interest in the public schools belongs largely to women as educators and even more distinctively to mothers: that whenever the training of children is to be considered experience with child life gives value to the judgment of intelligent women. We ask this recognition in the administration of our city, not for any personal ends, but in view of the best interests of our fellow-citizens."

The Mayor said that he would consider the matter and give an answer in a few days.

found him and served the papers. Following this, he wrote a letter to his wife, which was put in evidence. This is a portion of the letter:

If you only knew the position I am is, I am sure you would do everything in your power to help me. Nothing can be gained in any way by delaying the divorce, and, as you can understand, everything depends upon it for my welfare. The New York papers have, as you know, been read everywhere, and all the relatives and friends in Sheffield and elsewhere in Engand and at Scarborouga know of it, and you can imacine the result. Mr. Andrews appointed his wife one of the trustees of his estate, along with three others in Sheffield, and also appointed her guardian of the three children. She may be removed from the executorship, and the children may also be taken from us, as the other executors may also be taken from us, as the other executors may apoly to the courts for her removal, saying that we are leading a sinful life, that we're not married, etc., and that it would be detrimental to the children to be in her charge. As soon as the divorce is obtained in New-York, and we can be remarried again here, it will stop all proceedings in that quarter. The position is certainly a terrible one as it is, and every day makes it still worse. I entreat of you to do what you can to help me, and to avoid any further disgrace, if not for my side, then for our children. Yours.

Mr. Jones, the father, testified to being present at the second marriage. He supposed at the time that his son was divorced from the plaintiff.

THE BURROUGHS FORGERY CASE. TRYING TO FIND OUT WHERE THE CERTIFICATE ON WHICH THE INDICTMENT WAS FOUND NOW IS.

The case of Horace Burroughs, indicted May 5, 1830, for alleged forgery of a certificate of a lumber inspector in Brunswick, Ga., was before Judge Fitzgerald again yesterday in Part II of the Genera Seasions, Charles W. Brooke, who represents Mr. Burroughs, asks that the indictment be quashed and Burroughs discharged. Judge Fitzgerald adjourned the case on Thursday until yesterday in order to inquire as to where the original certificate on which the indictment was founded now is. The cargo of lumber for which it was alleged the forged certifi cate was given was shipped to Guadaloupe, West Indies, and a keavy loss was sustained by reason o the false value given to the cargo, it having been declared in the certificate that the lumber was free of sap. Walter R. Heineman, who had been discharged by Mr. Burroughs on the ground of em-bezziement, testified in a civil suit in Brooklyn, brought by Middleton & Co., to recover damages for the loss suffered in the depreciation of the value of the cargo, that he saw Burroughs forge this cer-

Mr. O'Hare—Did you hear the name of Quinn in connection with this matter? A.—Yes, subsequently, Q.—How did his name come into the matter? A.—Well, when I wanted to find the alleged forged certificate I asked Lee about it. He said he had not got it back from the District-Attorney's office. I asked Assistant District-Attorney Wellman for it.

Judge Fitzgerald—Was Mr. Wellman in the case before Justice O'Reilly? A.—Yes, I think so, for the prosecution. I wrote to Mr. Wellman asking for the missing paper. I did not get it. Some time afterward I saw Mr. Wellman in the Superior Court, and he said it was in the hands of a man named Quinn. I got out a subpoena duces tecum, and Quinn appeared with the paper in the City Court at the trial in Brooklyn. That was over two years after the indictment against Burroughs had been found.
